Academics

"A house is not a home . . ." The home of the Braves is by no means excluded from this fact. Without the capable guidance of faculty and administration, Ypsilanti High might be just another Michigan high school accomodating just another 1200 students. We can be proud of the fact that over 60 qualified teachers care enough to teach us the best of what they have learned.

Administrators Help Students Shape Futures

At the very front of Ypsilanti High and comprising the nerve center of all educational happenings are the busy offices of Principal Burton R. Aldrich and Assistant Principal Hodley Cox. It is within these offices that all guidelines and all standards for making Ypsilanti High the pride-worthy school it is are established.

Assisting in the shaping of students' futures is the Board of Education which provides us with the best facilities available. Superintendent Raymond Barber and Assistant Superintendent John Salcau administer the Board's policies in its attempts to improve the educational standards in Ypsilanti. This year's main objective, the planning of the new Ypsilanti High—to be built in the near future—has been the team effort of the entire administration.

The language arts department, the largest one in the high school, is a compilation of English, foreign language, and speech teachers. It instructs almost all of the students of Ypsi High each day.

The main goal of this year's language arts department was the drafting of educational specifications for a possible new school and the improving and revamping of course offerings.

Included in this department are: Miss Carol Ann Gillis, librarian, Mr. Leland Randall, Miss Sadie Garner, Miss Carol Watterworth, Mrs. Mary Jo May, Miss Gail Bingel, Miss Joan Stollerman, Miss Jeri Lou Wagstaff, and Mrs. Jan Horst.

Foreign language teachers were: Mr. Ben Sharp, Mrs. June Dollard, Mrs. Gail Reed, Mr. George Fincik, department chairman, Mrs. Gail Friedman.

From finger painting to sculpture, "You're a good man, Charlie Brown," to a toccata, variations of "Jingle Bells" to the "Gloria," strange sights and sounds surround, swallow up, and complete the atmosphere of our fine arts department.

Brilliantly colored displays, all types of performances, both vocal and instrumental and the presentation of students' talents were the goals and accomplishments of this department.

The teachers responsible for this progress were: Mr. Earle Pearson, Mrs. Barbara Weiss, Mr. Don Racine, Mr. Richard Skinner, and Mr. Herbert Fry as department chairman.

Early Civilizations, Modern World History, American History, Political Science, Economics, and Sociology constitute the wide variety of courses offered by our social studies department.

U.S. History in the Caribbean

No clear definition can be given to the long-range goals established by this department except to say that theirs has been the task of acquainting us with the wonders of ancient civilizations, the confusion of political science, the fundamentals of economics and sociology, and the uniqueness of our own history.

All in all, their everlasting goal is the development of good, well-rounded, understanding citizens of the world.

The staff consisted of: Mrs. Linda Hougan, Mr. Bill Dusbiber, Mr. Edward Heyman, Mr. Christopher Burke, Mr. Paul Althouse, Mr. Bill Schmidt, Mrs. Ricky Zahn, and Mrs. Virginia Eyman.

Numbers + Equations + Diagrams = Mathematics—a brief outline of our Mathematics department. Students could enroll in such courses as basic and general math, Algebra I, geometry, and advanced algebra. Basic and general math are offered for those needing more work with numbers. Consumer math, which teaches the management of money, taxes, and insurance for budget planning later in life, is also offered. For those students who planned to major in this department, mathematical analysis provided advanced study.

By the end of the year, a few students learned, with amazement, that the Pythagorean Theorem actually can be proved and others found that quadratic equations weren't as impossible as they appeared. Included in the department are Mr. Tom Lawrence, Mrs. Donna Frye, Mr. Thomas Zientek, and Mr. Tom Taylor.

From skeletons in the closet to crayfish claws, it was another typical year in the science department. Chemistry was as explosive as always, under Mr. Hebrew's able guidance. Biology provided diversion for the weak of heart (and stomach) and was the end of many a fish, frog, and flower. Members of the science department included Mr. Richard Buccos as department head, Mr. Dave Driscoll, Mr. George Keilwasser, and Mr. Cecil Hebrew.

The business education department this year taught numerous students how to use business machines correctly, how to type and take shorthand with some proficiency, and prepared them for a successful career in the business world. For seniors who wanted to work there was a co-op program which gave them actual business experiences in offices and other places of business.

The teachers of these courses were: Mr. Art Donnelly, Mrs. Marilyn Kloosterman, Mrs. Bonnie Distler, Miss Charlen Sutton, Mrs. Marie Grinstead, and Mrs. Doris Max.

The physical education department tried out new activities this year. Archery and folk dancing were both started this year and were enjoyed by many students.

The department's goal was to obtain better sportsmanship. Along with this it strove for improved health habits, friendly attitudes, and new or better methods for sports.

Mr. Bob Moffett, Miss Ruth Ann Wallace, Mr. George Parker, Mr. Roy Wilbanks, Mrs. Jill Deuel.

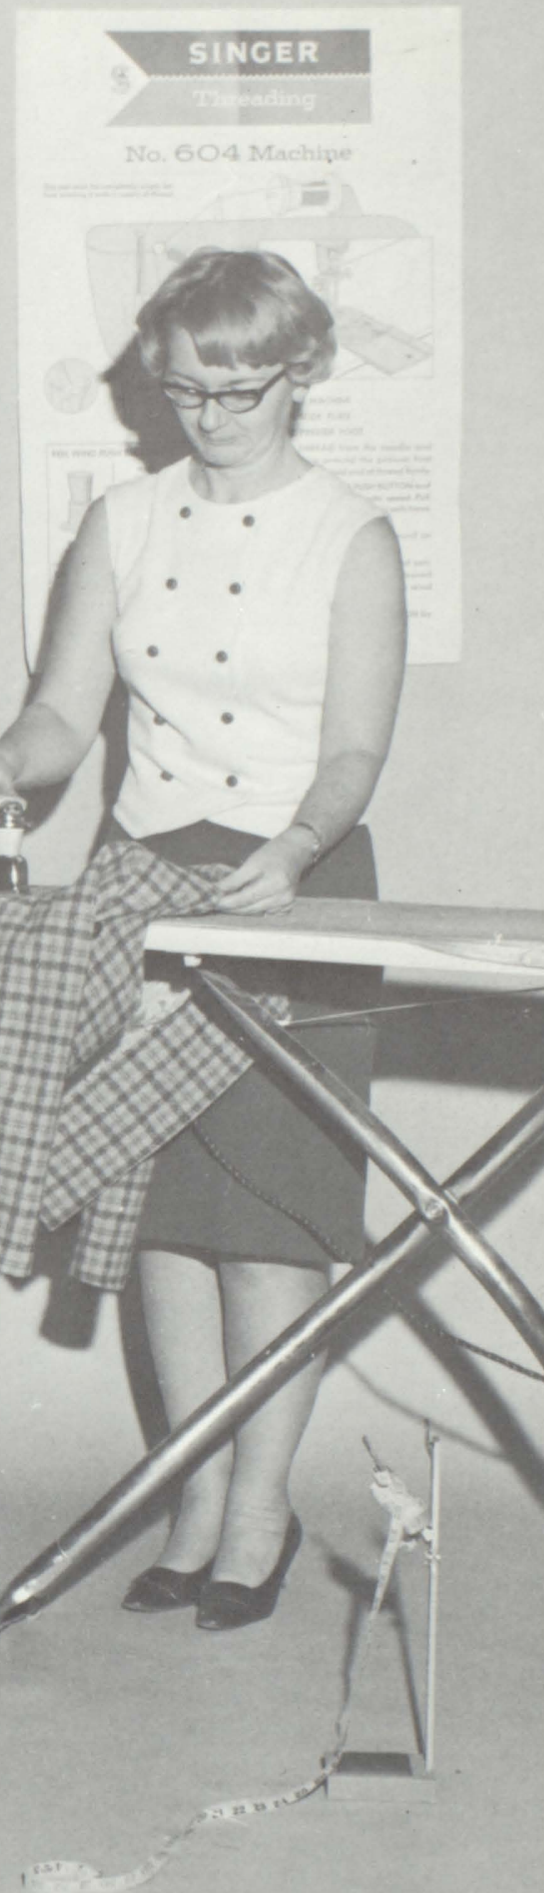

The vocational education department includes all phases of homemaking and industrial arts. In homemaking, girls learn to sew a straight seam as well as how to prepare many fine, delicious dishes.

Industrial arts courses help the guys learn to fix cars, and teach them to work successfully with wood. Also included are courses in drafting and the graphic arts, which prepare the students involved for careers in architecture and printing.

Mr. Ed Elsholz, Mr. Gordon Miller, Mr. Richard Mueller, Mr. George Leeds, Mr. Harold Lounsberry, Mr. James Bohn, Mrs. Margaret Cassidy, and Mrs. Ruth Munger.

In Ypsi High, there are several special classes and programs in which many students are involved. The students receive certain kinds of training and education from specially trained teachers. They, like all Ypsi High students, participate in many other aspects of school life such as athletics, clubs and other extracurricular activities and classes. Teachers in the special education department included: Mrs. Georgia Lumbar, Mr. Claude Wilbanks, Mr. Harry Grether, Mrs. Ann Sorrell, Mrs. Joan Liang.

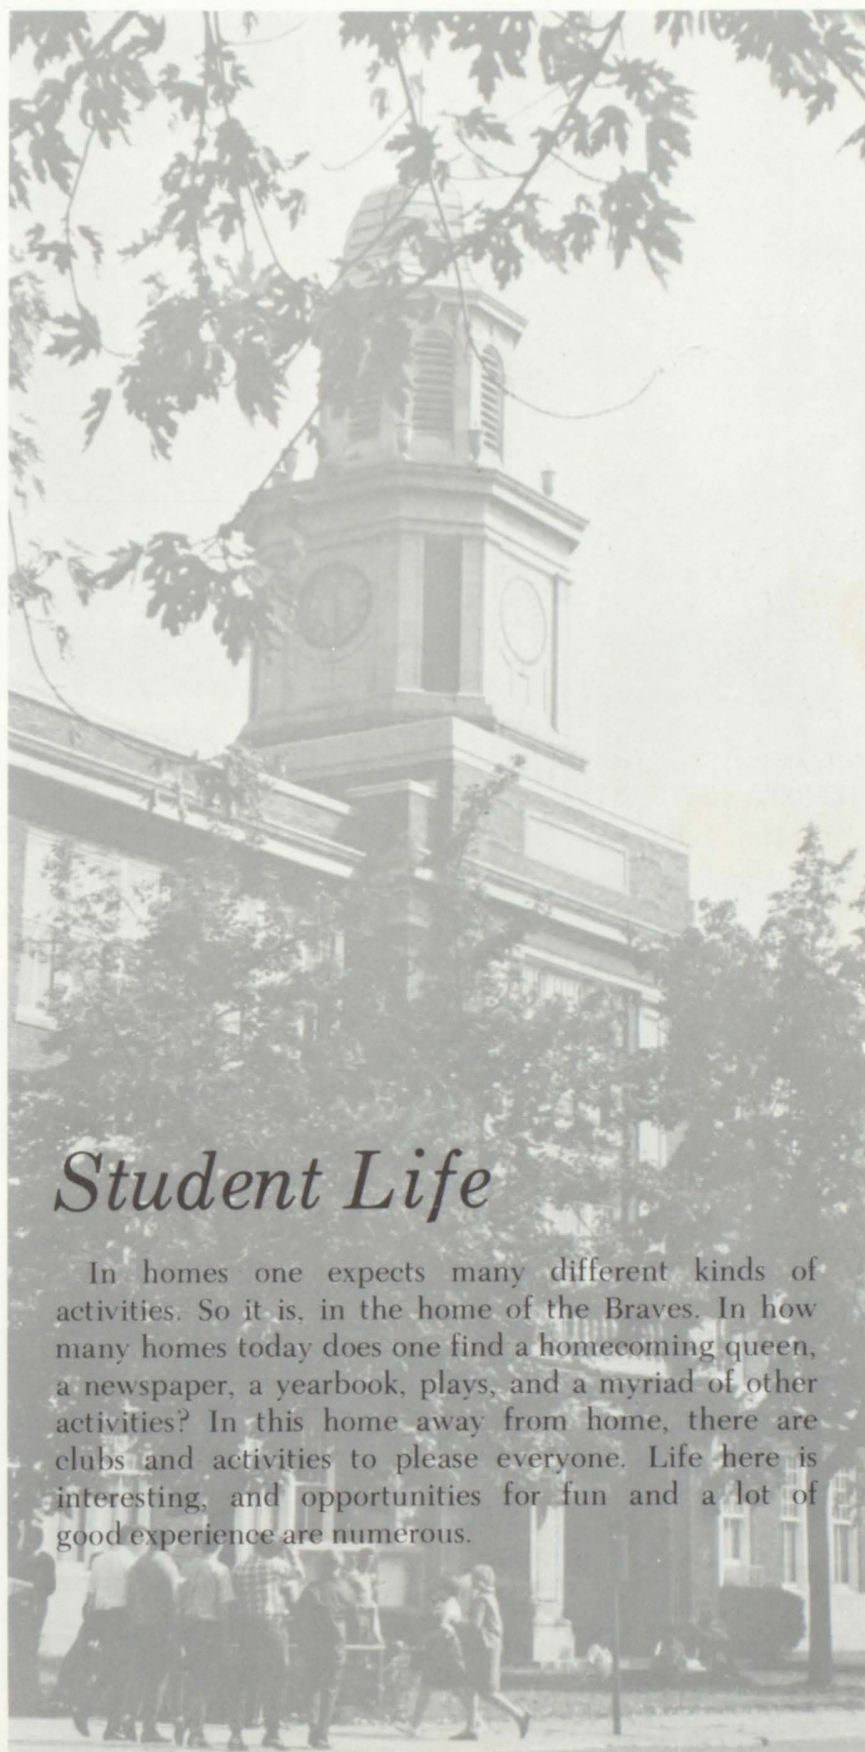

Problems encountered through our years at Ypsi High are shared, and more often than not are solved, with the help of the members of our guidance department.

This year, the students here at Ypsi High have been exposed to a new system, the alphabetical assignment of students to individual counselors. Though the primary duty of the counselors was to help with schedule changes and classification, they also became involved in the various interests of the students such as Armed Service, vocational planning, student employment, various tests, drop-outs, and special problems. Certainly, the one problem that never changes and always confronts these diligent workers has been the preparation of seniors for graduation and college.

The staff consisted of: Mr. Dick Ouellette, Miss Sue Chapman, Mrs. Nancy Rollinson, Mr. Paul Dignan, Mr. John Barry, and Miss Bernice Inwood.

Student Life

In homes one expects many different kinds of activities. So it is, in the home of the Braves. In how many homes today does one find a homecoming queen, a newspaper, a yearbook, plays, and a myriad of other activities? In this home away from home, there are clubs and activities to please everyone. Life here is interesting, and opportunities for fun and a lot of good experience are numerous.

For Memorable YHS Homecoming

The week of October sixteenth was one filled with much excitement and many memories. Many activities in which students participated were held at this time. Monday was Voluntary Servitude Day; Tuesday, Theme Day; and Wednesday, Sweat-shirt Day.

A pep assembly at which the Homecoming Queen and her court were announced was held Thursday night. The following night, the most important game of the season was played. Spirit was high; tension was great, and sentiments everywhere ranged from joy and excitement to wistfulness.

As the parade circled the field, the Homecoming Queen and her court and all the floats were attentively viewed. To complete the memorable event, our football players came through with another victory—the most significant one of the season—winning 20-13 against Dearborn High School. Ypsi High's 1967 Homecoming is one that will not be soon forgotten.

Drum majorette Jan Campbell.

Under the direction of Drum Majorette Jan Campbell, the Ypsilanti High School Girls' Drum and Bugle Corps of 1967-1968 graced Shadford Field as they performed for halftime and pre-game shows. Other activities included an away game at Belleville, Kiwanis Charity Game, and E.M.U. Homecoming parade.

Social events were the annual banquet honoring the seniors in the Corps, a fun night with the band, and a pajama party at the majorette's home after a football game.

This year's D.B.C. Council members were: Sharon Marken, president; Kathy Abbott, vice-president; Jan Campbell, majorette; Linda Stribley, assistant majorette; Cindy Norton, secretary; Ginger Adams, treasurer; Judy Hagood, librarian; Anita Huston, junior representative; and Sharon Patterson, equipment manager.

Linda Wolter, along with other buglers, works at memorizing her music.

Band Enjoys Interesting Year

Bill Roberts and John Nelson rehearse for the concert which climaxed the week at Interlochen.

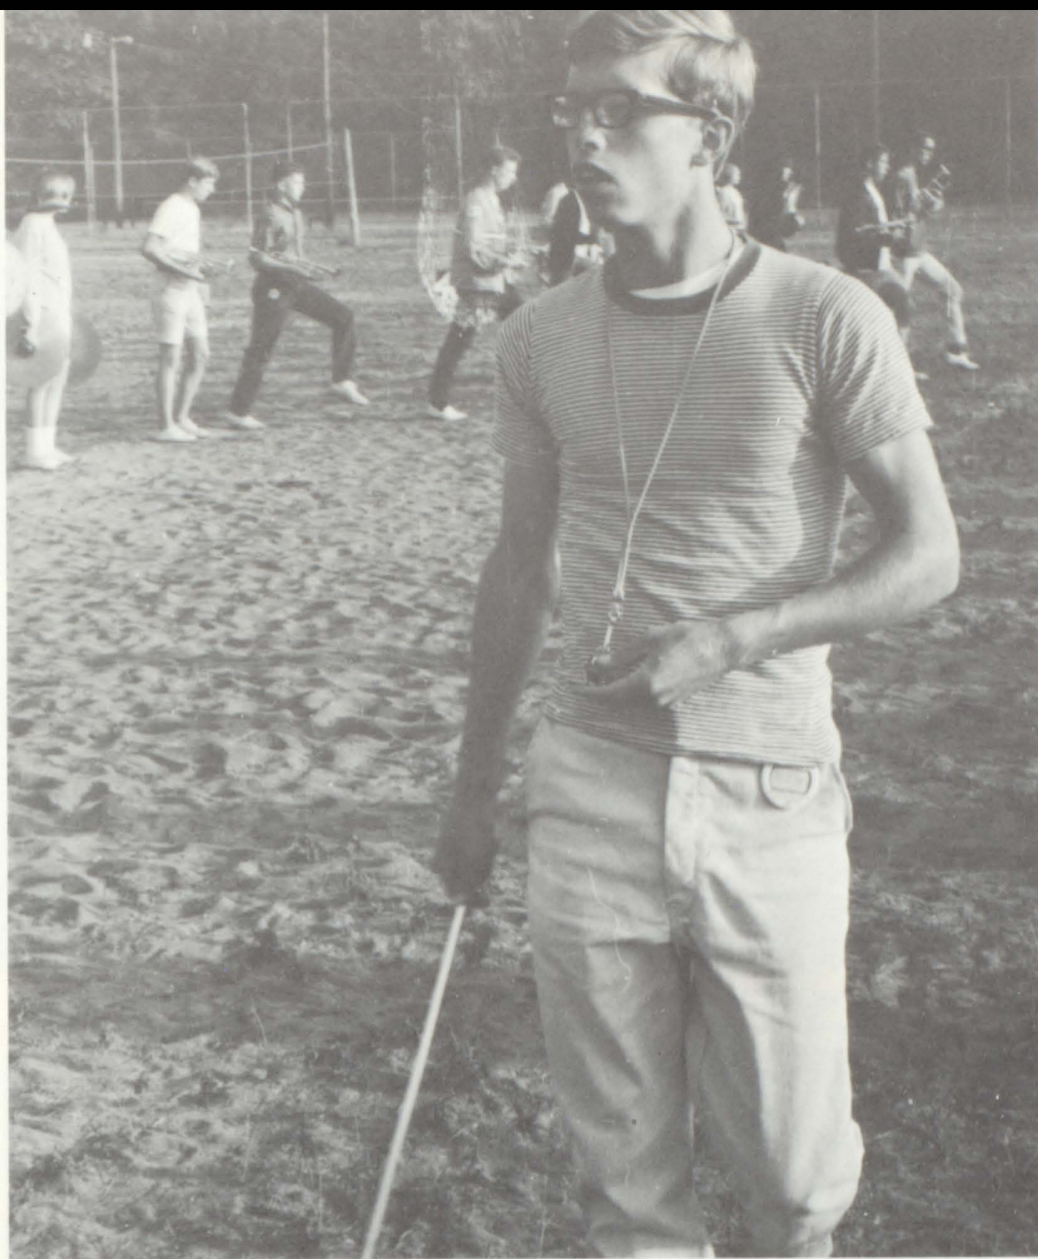

Starting off a very interesting marching season with Phil Klein as drum major, the marching band persevered through many Fridays of rain and snow. Along the way, they enjoyed the U. of M. Band Day and Eastern Michigan University's Homecoming parade and game. When the concert season started, the band set to work at several activities, such as the preparation of music for the Solo and Ensemble Festival and the winter concert in February, and the band festival in March.

Along with fun nights, the annual social events of the Military Ball and the awards dinner were held, highlighting an exciting, memorable year. The spring activities included the spring band concert, the outdoor concert with East Junior High, and the Memorial Day parade. The year was closed by the performance of underclassmen at Commencement ceremonies, and a forward look to Interlochen and the return in the fall to the home of the Braves.

Orchestra Expands In Its Second Year

Under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Weiss, the orchestra had a busy, successful year. There was a larger membership and the performances were more numerous than last year. The majority of the members travelled to Interlochen just before school started, and had an early look at what was in store for them in the coming year, while taking advantage of Interlochen's fine facilities.

In November, the strings attended the violin clinic in Plymouth and the entire orchestra worked on uniforms. These made their debut at the Christmas Vespers concert.

About seventy-five per cent of the orchestra prepared compositions for the Solo and Ensemble Festival in February. At the same time, several pieces of music were prepared for the combined band and orchestra concert, also in February.

In April, the orchestra presented an entire concert with several senior musicians as featured soloists. The year was concluded by a tour of several grade schools and preparations for another week at Interlochen.

. . . During Busy Year For All Vocal Groups

A Capella choir, girls' glee, Ypsi-Ettes, and the Barbershop Quartet were very busy this year.

The choir began practicing Vivaldi's "Gloria" early in the year. Performances of this work were given at St. John's High School, the Ypsi High Christmas Vespers program, and the annual Christmas assembly. While practicing "Gloria," the choir also rehearsed for the various festivals in the spring.

Something new was initiated in girls' glee—two groups were created, meeting during separate hours, but performing together.

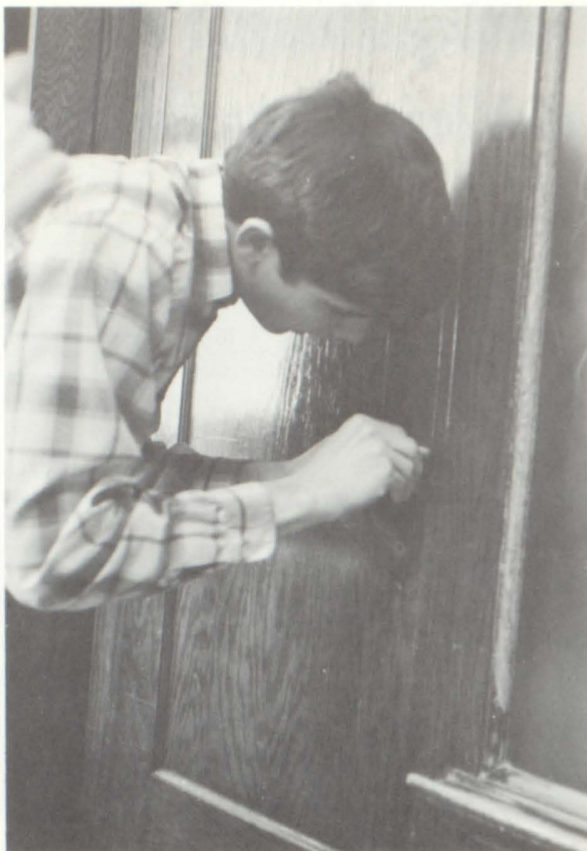

The Ypsi-Ettes and the Barbershop Quartet consisted of a group of talented girls who sang frequently for various organizations such as the open house, B.Y. Club, Ladies' Literary Club, and hospitals.

Vivaldi's "Gloria," long hidden in the deep recesses of Mr. Pearson's files, was at last performed for the Christmas concerts. Melinda Hill awaits her cue from Mr. Pearson.

Debaters Take League Seconds; Complete

This year's varsity debate team finished off the year with second place wins in both Sauk Trail and Wayne County leagues. The varsity consisted of Peter Rood and Walter Greig as affirmative and Jennifer Orr and Gretchen Buccos as negative. Junior varsity, equally successful, was composed of Becky Bingham, Jon Barfield, Henry Braunz, and Al Lennert. Novices Bob DeVoe, Sue Semler, Carol Mattison, Curtis Corkin, and Tom Bingham debated in the Neophyte League. The team also participated in the I-94 League, consisting of practice meets, and the W.C.T.M. League. During the winter months, the team debated up to three or four times a week, going to different places such as Kalamazoo, Lansing, and Detroit.

Student Council Plans And Co-ordinates

School Activities

The YHS student council was the most active organization for the promotion of general school spirit of our high school. In accordance with their high goal for spirit, the council organized such activities as sophomore orientation and back to school dances. The student body owes student government a great deal of thanks for providing such a friendly atmosphere and arranging for school buses to all away games. Because of the effort put forth by the hard working members of this organization, the year was hi-lighted by Homecoming week, the Christmas Dance, and Twerp Week.

FTA Members Work On Services, Projects

This year the Future Teachers carried out many new projects, as well as welcoming a new advisor—Mrs. Nagelberg.

The members helped guide at the Parent-Teacher Open House, sponsored a 25-cent dance, and helped at a district dinner for teachers. In the spring they polished the MEA plaque at Eastern Michigan University, sold candy, and attended FTA conferences at EMU and St. Mary's Lake.

Officers for 1967-1968 were: president, Dorothy James; vice president, Bob Kelly; secretary, Bev Hays; and treasurer, Shelly Jacobs.

The United Nations Study Club, which this year consisted of Louise Magoon, Dee Street, Donna Biggle, and their advisor, Mr. Martell, again participated in the Model United Nations Assembly at Hillsdale.

This year the group represented Ireland at the two day session on March 8 and 9. Each of the three girls was a member of one committee and had to have extensive background in her particular subject.

Donna Biggle served on the Special Political Committee, which discussed the Cyprus situation and observer-status for various countries.

Dee Street was a member of the Political Committee, which discussed the Mid-East and the nuclear test ban.

Treatment of Arab refugees was one of the topics discussed by Louise Magoon's committee.

Creative Spanish students found an outlet for their skills this year in the publication of their own newspaper, La Voz.

Each edition was filled with interviews, fashions, recipes, songs, cartoons, and games. Many junior high Spanish students also added their talents, and as a result, La Voz was an instant success!

Editors for the 1967-68 year were Dorothy McDonald and Sharon Harris.

Year-Round Work, Challenge, And Fun

The Palladian staff and its advisor, Miss Stollerman, began working early this year and continued right up until publication. The greatest task which confronted the staff was encouraging participation among the students.

This year's staff, although it was small, set some interesting long-range goals. They worked hard to improve the magazine over last year's, and to establish a unique form that added life to its contributions.

This year's theme placed emphasis on man in his environment—on those particular events that make him great or small in the eyes of others.

All work submitted by students was edited, and only the very best contributions were printed. The hope of the staff was that all who participated would find reward in their work and be encouraged to continue their efforts.

Barb Carter, Nancy Albert, and Donna Biggle work hard on one of the special editions of this year's Ypsi Sem.

Thanks to the cooperation and contributions of students in all three classes, the Ypsi Sem had a very good year. The special Homecoming issue proved so successful that several other six-page issues followed. An overload of current news provided students of Ypsi High with half-again as much as usual for the usual dime cost.

With Donna Biggle working as editor and Mr. Leland Randall as advisor, the Sem was well led. After solving the problem of locating an office, the year progressed smoothly. In October, several students on the staff, along with Mr. Randall, traveled to Lansing for a day to meet with students from all over Michigan to exchange ideas, pick up new journalism techniques, and brag about the well-managed and well written Sem.

Saga Of Life At Ypsilanti High School

Mary Watkins and Thelma Prince check over faculty copy before typing it up to send to the printers.

It all began last spring when Thelma Prince was selected editor for the 1968 Ypsilantian. While everyone else was enjoying the leisure of summer vacation, Thelma, and Jim Bush attended the University of Detroit workshops for yearbook editors and photographers.

When school began, the theme, "Home of the Braves" was selected, and the advertising staff set to work.

As deadlines for club copy loomed, there was a massive collection of pictures and copy. The class sections were organized, and, finally, the last layout was done, the last copy was written, the last deadline was met.

It was an awful lot of work, but all the fun that went with it made it worthwhile to be working on the Ypsilantian 1968.

The National Honor Society, led by Mrs. Distler, met twice a month. The new members were chosen at the end of the year on the basis of leadership, character, service, and scholarship.

The main objective of the National Honor Society is to call deserved attention and recognition to those individuals who maintain high standards in the four areas on which they are selected.

The activities of the organization revolved around services for the community. In the spring they have their annual picnic and traditional initiation.

Incentive For YHS Students To Excel

"PROCRASTINATE" AND "PROJECT!" These are the late by-words of the slow starting, but rapid growing Ypsilanti Branch of the National Thespians Society. In spite of the well modulated, melodious tone of Cathy Lund's student directorship, the frantic, but practical stagery of prop manager Kriss Miller, the switch-busting, but illuminatory efforts of technical director Dan Willoughby, the hectic Hackneys, Opal Booker, and the frantic balderdash of a cast of thousands, this year's production of Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" was a . . . , well, it all worked.

Thespians Present Wilder's "Our Town"

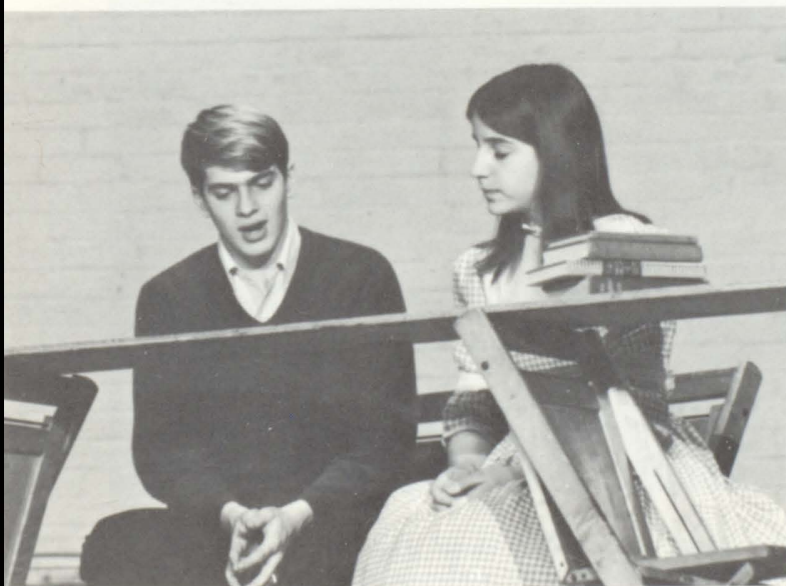

Difficult Production Proves Successful

"Our Town" told the story of George Gibbs and Emily Webb's life. These two figures represented man and woman universally, and what life was all about. The Thespian production added something to the play, a painter. This painter represented reality; the rest of the play was a universal make-believe of what human beings get out of life. Emily Webb's part was performed by Wendy Barich, and her husband George Gibbs, by Walter Greig. The Stage Manager, and only omniscient character in the play, was Rick Katon. Heading technical equipment was Dan Willoughby, and prompting, Pam Hackney. The student director was Cathy Lund.

Pam Johnson, above, as Mrs. Webb, expresses her anxieties about the marriage of her daughter to George Gibbs. At right, in an earlier scene, Stage Manager Rick Katon steps from his narrative role into the shoes of the Grover's Corners druggist as he prepares George Gibbs and Emily Webb two sodas. Walt Greig, as George, below, realizes his love for Emily, Wendy Barich, as they talk at the soda fountain.

Aquamerrettes Improve, Expand This Year

The Aquamerrettes started the year with tryouts for prospective members for the year 1967-68.

They attended two clinics, one at Michigan State, and the other at the University of Michigan. At these clinics they obtained ideas for future swim shows, such as for costumes and stunts.

Becoming a more popular group, its membership increased from last year's ten to this year's twenty-four.

The officers of the Aquamerrettes this year were: president, Shirley Jameson; vice-president, Louise Magoon; secretary, Dona Bryan; treasurer, Colleen Sipple; production manager, Paula Barnett.

Swimming Timers' Charter Their Club

The timers, who record the speeds of our swimmers, started their club this year by drawing up a charter. This year's chairman was Brenda Palmer and the secretary-treasurer was Sherry Campbell. Besides timing for all home swimming meets, the girls timed at the Ypsi Relays in December.

Cheerleaders Spark Teams to Victory

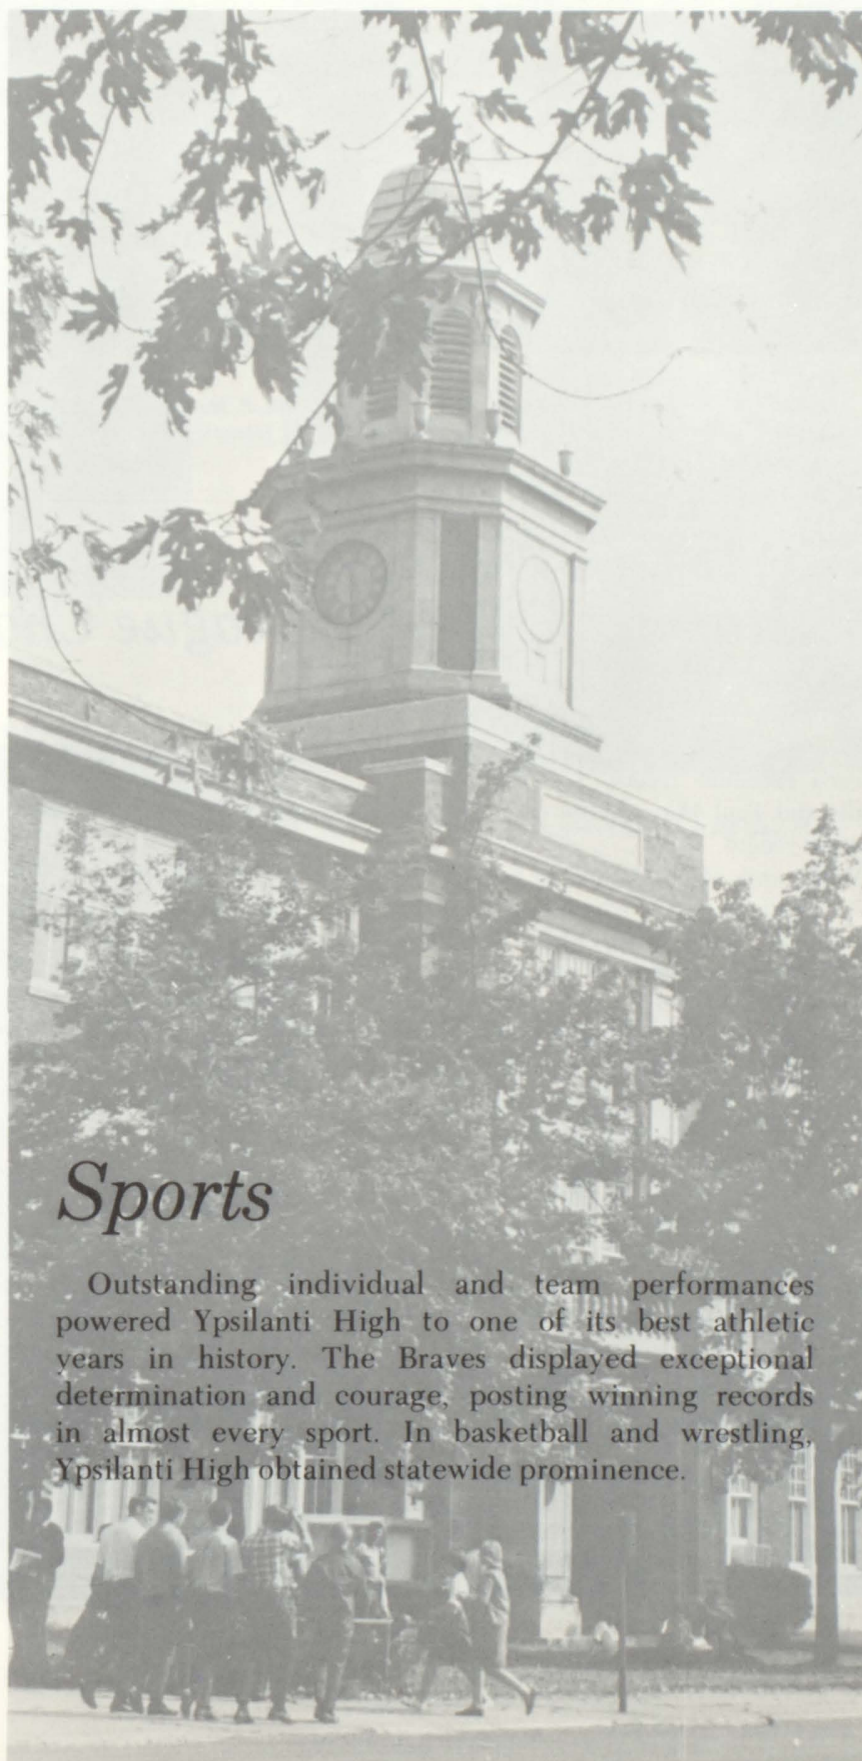

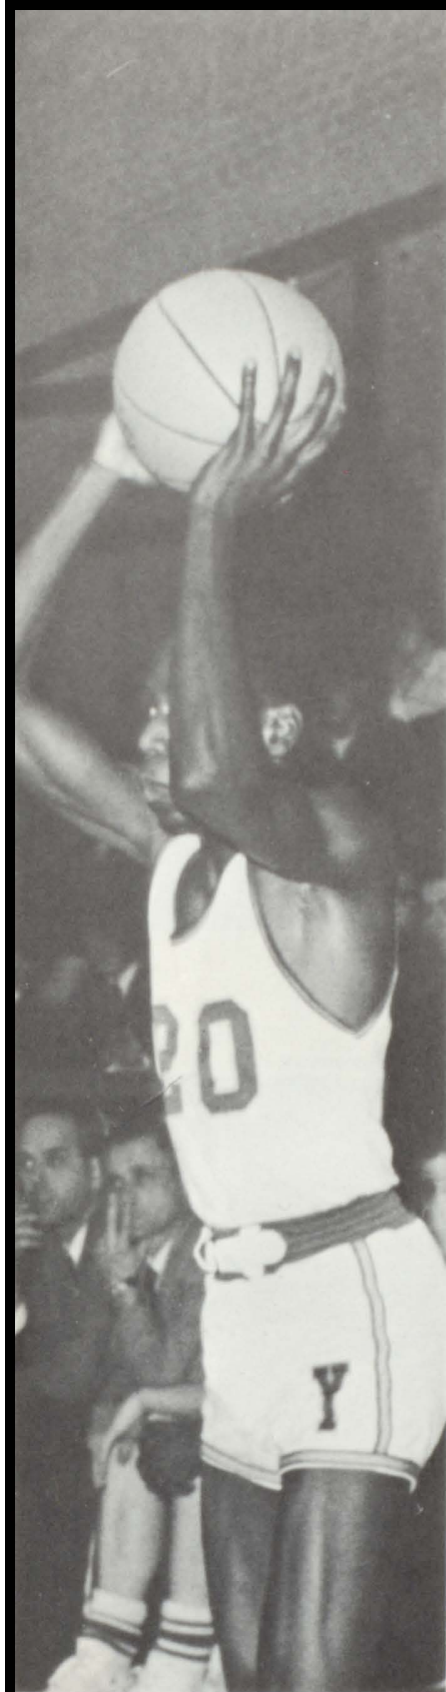

There is more work to being a cheerleader than most people realize. Cheerleading involves long hours of strenuous practice, revising and making up new cheers, planning pep assemblies and always promoting school spirit. The cheerleaders back all the teams, urging them on with cheers and chants.

Ypsi High is proud of the cheerleaders because of the great job they have done in raising pep and spirit, and leading the Braves on to victory.

Go! Go! Kay Maki urges the football team on to victory.

Sports

Outstanding individual and team performances powered Ypsilanti High to one of its best athletic years in history. The Braves displayed exceptional determination and courage, posting winning records in almost every sport. In basketball and wrestling, Ypsilanti High obtained statewide prominence.

Harriers Become League Champions

This year's cross country team managed to surpass last year's excellent record. Led by seniors Dwight Walls and Paul Murray, the team posted an 8-0 dual meet record.

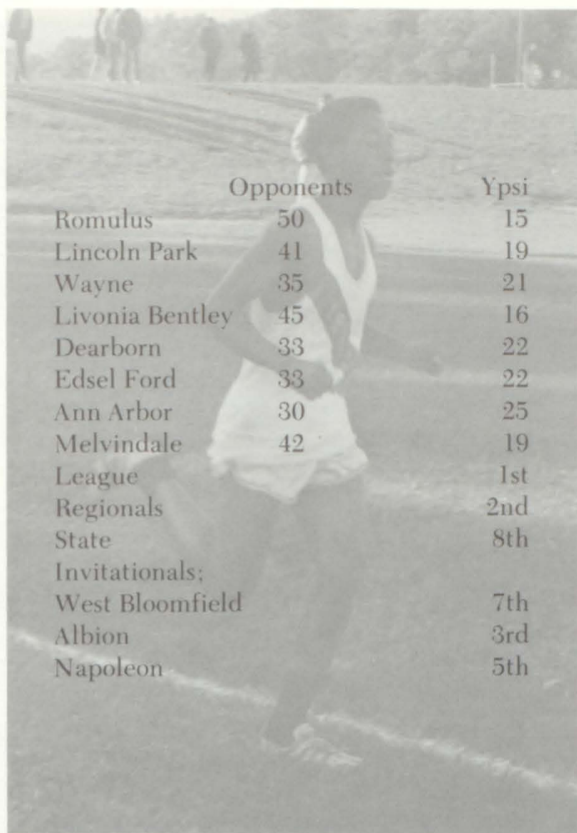

Dwight Walls and Matt Heumann proved to be the Brave's most consistent winners. Paul Murray, Lee Lashway, Jody Frye, and the other members of the team contributed valuable points throughout the season.

Ypsilanti High harriers showed that they planned to dominate cross-country in the Sauk Trail League just as they had in the Huron-Rouge League. By defeating each of the schools in the new league, Ypsilanti High became its first champion.

Ypsi's harriers also qualified for state competition by placing second in the regional held at Cass Benton Park. At the state meet itself, Ypsi was able to place eighth in team competition.

Winning Season

This year's football team, although hampered by numerous injuries to several key players, was able to provide Coach Dave Driscoll with his second winning season since becoming head coach at Ypsilanti High in 1965. The Braves, with 17 returning lettermen, were a formidable opponent for each of the teams in their schedule.

Losing only to Jackson Parkside, Melvindale, and Dearborn Edsel Ford, and tying Lincoln Park and Belleville, the team managed to break the .500 mark with a 20-13 victory over East Detroit. In this game, senior Paul Burrell broke the record previously held by Tim Southward in most passes received, catching a season total of 34 aerials. Burrell later became the first Brave to be named to an all-state squad when he was chosen for the Class-A second team as an end. Gregg Huxley and Jim Smith received honorable mention.

In the newly-formed Sauk Trail League, Ypsilanti High was one of the three teams involved in a tie for second place. Edsel Ford became the first champion of the league. With the return of several experienced players, next year's team promises to be an excellent contender for the league title.

Third in State

Ranked among the top ten teams in the state throughout the entire season, the wrestling team once again enjoyed a highly successful season. Losing only three dual meets, the Braves posted an admirable 9-3-1 record and won two individual tournaments.

Ypsi dominated the Sauk Trail League, winning all of their dual meets and capturing the championship at the league meet.

At the Trenton regional, Ypsi qualified eight finalists for the state meet and became regional champions for the twelfth time in thirteen years. Ypsilanti's regional champions included Captain Dave Bow, Clifton Smith, Eddie Rice, and Therlon Harris. Second-place finishers were Allen Gray, Larry Rice, Dave Smith, and Louis Whisenant.

In state competition, the Braves finished a strong third. Accounting for most of the points were Dave Bow, who finished third at 120 pounds, Eddie Rice, a second-place finisher at 154 pounds, and Therlon Harris, who also placed second in his division.

Swimmers Show Improvement

Ypsi High's swimmers, although suffering another losing season, showed tremendous improvement. They offered good competition to most of their opponents and surpassed the 40-point mark on several occasions. Ypsi did win the Ypsi Relays for the first time, accumulating more points than either Roosevelt or Lincoln. Jim Roberts, specializing in the backstroke, and Bill Roberts, a butterfly man, were the only remaining seniors on the team.

Make First YHS Trip To State Finals

An ecstatic Ypsilanti basketball team goes wild with excitement after downing Battle Creek in the quarterfinals—making the 1968 Braves the most successful ever.

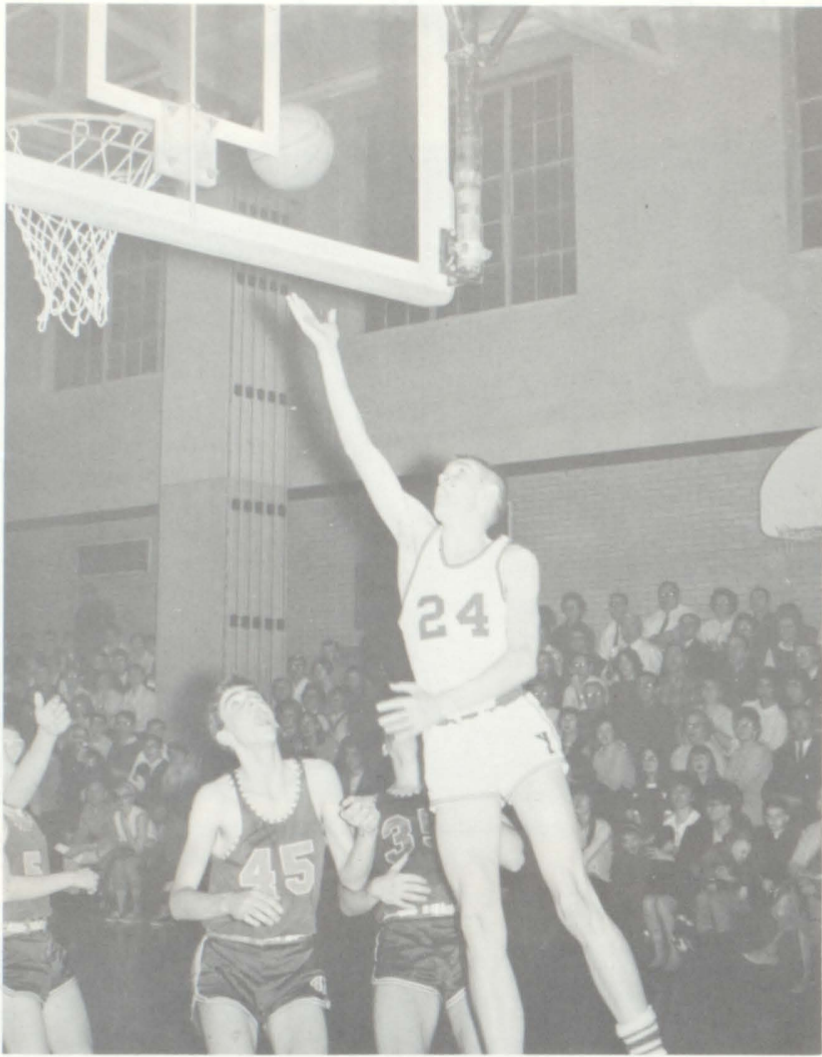

Ypsilanti High, playing for the first time in the Michigan Class A finals, posted a fantastic 24-1 record. Their only loss came in the state finals when they lost to an inspired Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills team, 76-68.

Ranked number one in the state by the Associated Press throughout the last four weeks of the regular season, the Braves defeated several reputable teams, including Jackson Parkside, Southfield, Battle Creek Central, and Detroit Catholic Central. Their closest encounter came when the team squeaked by Monroe, 66-65, during regular season action.

Outstanding individuals on the team included Craig Larsen, all-state center and holder of School records for single season and career scoring, Ron Palmer, who set a school record in most assists, Robin Raymond, holder of the record for most free throws completed in one game, and Al Richison, whose 65-foot shot in the state finals established a new record for the longest shot completed at Jenison Field House.

Trackmen Hopeful

The track team, hopeful of repeating or bettering their third-place finish in the state meet last year, began their season in the early weeks of spring. Expectations of success were expressed by several members of the team as they entered league competition and the team itself was expected to capture the Sauk Trail League championship in track.

Individuals returning from last year's highly successful team included Dwight Walls, who was considered one of the best 440-men in the state last year, Lamar Reed, specializing in the low hurdles, Tim Ryan, anchor man for several winning relay teams last year, and Matt Heumann, whose strong performance in cross-country explain his success in the two-mile run, an event introduced in Michigan high school track just last year. Other members of the team who contributed points are seniors Paul Murray, Chris German, and Darrell Kenyon. Sophomore prospects included Jim Hawkins, Tom Johnson, Lee Lashway, and Lonnie Taylor.

Netters Eyed Winning Season

This year's tennis team promised to be one of the best ever at Ypsi High. Bolstered by the return of ten lettermen, the team had hoped to surpass the .500 mark this year. Coach Claude Wilbanks looked to seniors Jim Roberts, Bill Roberts, Wayne Waters, Nick Bernardo, John King, Bob Adair, and Tom Poling for important victories against league opponents. Underclassmen included varsity letter winners Mike Ryan and Tom Cripe. Rick Falstad, a junior, completed the lineup by competing in one of the singles positions. Coach Wilbanks also expected to experiment with several sophomores during the season.

Golfers Pursue State Title

Hoping to improve on last year's seventh place finish in the state meet, the golf team expressed optimism as they entered the 1968 season. Led by Jeff Reaume, the regional medalist last year, the team sought improvement on their near-perfect record of last year. Other returning lettermen included juniors Matt Pinter and Clark Dobbs. They were coached this season by Roy Wilbanks, whose success extended into golf as well as wrestling.

Returning lettermen include Jeff Reaume, Matt Pinter, and Clark Dobbs.

Baseball Team Seeks League Championship

This year's baseball team seemed destined for even more recognition than last year's team. The 1967 team posted an admirable 15-5 record and would have been the baseball champions of the now defunct Huron Rouge Valley League if league competition had been provided. The team looked for continued success in the Sauk Trail League and was considered a threat for the baseball crown. Coach Bob Moffett based his optimism on the return of last year's three leading hitters: Bob Bower, Ron Palmer, and Paul Burrell. Bower led the team in hits, followed by Palmer and Burrell. Other members of last year's team have also returned and are expected to see action during the season.

Pep Club Promotes School Spirit

Pep Club's Homecoming float, which took second place in competition.

This year the Pep Club, headed by its very capable group of officers: Marlene Atkins, president; Jim Muscato, vice-president; Marilyn Ferrell, secretary; Jan Hartman, treasurer; and Miss Wallace, advisor, got off to a grand start by ordering pom-poms and selling all of them in three days.

A pep club is to support school spirit, and many of the members considered themselves artistically inclined. The halls were covered with posters supporting our various teams; the goal posts were decorated for home football games when weather permitted, and a special cheering section was set up with posters marking its existence. Artistic personalities also helped build the club's second place float for Homecoming.

The varsity club was involved in several activities this year. The year began with the selling of concessions at the football games. The sale of school sweaters was also continued and the funds received were used to finance other club activities. Activities planned for the spring included a picnic, a tentative initiation for new members, and a car wash sponsored by the club. Mr. Wilbanks did an excellent job in organizing and coordinating the activities of the club.

Underclassmen

The home of the Braves had many new additions this year, most were named "sophomore." The unified and tireless efforts of sophomores and juniors in almost every club and activity made this a very fruitful year. Together in the typical stand against senior control, and filled with great enthusiasm and spirit, the underclassmen made 1967-68 another interesting and active year.

To each sophomore, 1968 brought a variety of new and interesting experiences, some of which will be remembered by all.

After Sophomore Orientation, the junior varsity football team, cheered on by the junior varsity cheerleaders and the rest of the sophomore class, played energetically. The end result was an exceedingly good season record. With Homecoming came election of sophomore princesses. The builders of the class float were rewarded by theirs being the best of the three classes. Sophomore participation in various school clubs was considerable.

The records of the teams of junior varsity basketball, wrestling, and other sports also showed that the sophomore class was enthusiastic about playing as well as working.

The Class Of '69

As members of the Junior class, many found this year a difficult but rewarding step toward their great Senior year. At Homecoming the Junior class float took third place in the float competition—a step up from last year's disqualification. Homecoming week also involved choosing Sandy Hays and Mary Wehr to represent the class of "69" as Junior princesses.

The Christmas spirit was enhanced by passing out candy canes to all Junior class members by the officers. Juniors again showed their class spirit by participating in and volunteering for various extracurricular activities. They were widely represented in all sports. Choosing class colors and fads, the year came to a happy ending.

Many hours of work are reflected in a finished junior class float.

Chemistry lab holds explosive interest for juniors Becky Delano and Cherie Müller.

Seniors

Following two years of participation in almost every club and activity, the senior class returned this year with renewed vigor and interest. Once again most of the clubs and athletic teams enjoyed senior participation. Senior contributions in these activities were particularly noticeable and gained much recognition for Ypsilanti High. The senior class is proud of their accomplishments in making the home of the Braves a school which has become known for the high caliber students it produces.

First Row: Jan Campbell, secretary; Sandy Fuller, treasurer. Second Row: Mr. Parker, Class advisor; John Milford, Vice-president; John King, president.

Senior Class of 1968

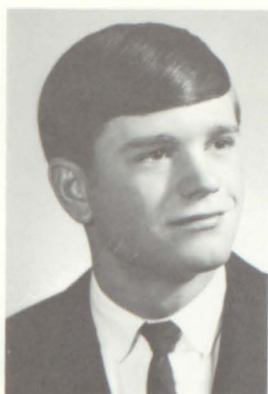

The senior year was full of excitement,
 With fun, joy, and a lot of enlightenment!
 Mr. Parker "advised" our class,
 Although we gave him a lot of sass!
 Our class did little, or so we thought,
 We gambled and bargained and got what we sought.
 We converted a storeroom to an office bright,
 As school rules ordered—we left on the light.
 It was remodeled and scrubbed by fine senior lads;
 Then, we wrote our class song and ordered our fads!
 The senior float—a feat of engineering,
 Then the hayride—our budget reeling,
 There were dances, movies, and parties too,
 Although some were attended by only a few.
 Skip day arrived and all bowled well.
 Spring brought finals that were harder than "usual."

Congratulations!

Columbus landed on an island and discovered two continents he hadn't dreamed of. Discovery is like that.
It always creates new challenges.

We hope you'll look upon your high school diploma that way.
And use it as a base of exploration that will take you on to college and the challenges which await you there.

By the time you graduate,
you will have found a few answers.
And discovered many more questions.
Then you'll be ready to start exploring again.

My diploma opened the door to an interesting job at MBT.
That's making an education go to work for you . . . and it does at Michigan Bell. I know, because I started working at MBT after graduation.
Michigan Bell trains you for interesting, full time work in the exciting field of telephone communications. So stop by soon

1968 Ypsilantian Says, 'Thank You!'

The second home of several Ypsi High students this year was a small office on the second floor. Organizing a record of the year's activities took many long hours of work by the yearbook staff and other students who donated their time to help. The cooperation of faculty members and people from the community was also a very necessary ingredient for putting together a yearbook.

We would like to say a special thank you to Mr. Jack McClure and the Ypsilanti Press for many fine pictures. Also contributing photos to the 1968 Ypsilantian were Mr. Reed and Mr. Lounsberry.

A very special thanks to the school librarian, Miss Gillis, for acting as our chaperone on many late nights, and to our long-suffering advisor, Miss Bingel.

Thelma Prince
